

TullyRunners.com NTN NE Predictions

Hanover NH and Voorhees NJ (Hunterdon Hawks) seem very evenly matched in this particular race ... If Voorhees can duplicate their performance at the NJ Meet of Champions, then they will have an advantage. Hanover and Voorhees NJ have a significant margin on the other teams. Lincoln-Sudbury MA (Wicked TC) and Emmaus PA (Suamme) aren't that far behind and could grab a qualifying spot if one of the top two teams falter. The mystery team is Nancy Lang RC (aka Phillips Academy in Andover MA ... a private prep school) Hanover and Voorhees NJ have a significant margin on the other teams. Lincoln-Sudbury MA (Wicked TC) guessing game ... So I made a guess, and the numbers suggest they are close to Lincoln-Sudbury and Emmaus PA (Suamme) aren't that far behind and could grab a qualifying spot if one of the top two teams Emmaus (but that's just a guess ... maybe they are better ... In one race at a full 5K distance, their top runner falter. The mystery team is Nancy Lang RC (aka Phillips Academy in Andover MA ... a private prep school) was less than 3 minutes behind Sintayehu Taye, one of the top boy runners in the northeast). Colts Neck NJ, Although I found two races with complete results, speed rating them with no background information is a finished 4th at NTN last year ... their score above does not include Brianna Jackucewicz because she did not run at NJ MOC (although she did run at NJ Groups) ... if she does run, Colts Neck projected score would be about 60 points less.
